

Two-Day Event

Helping Students be Future-Ready... Tips, tools and practice in Career Development

We want to design futures, not fall into them. “Future-ready” learners is the new accountability. This two-day “hands-on” workshop promises you’ll practice tools to use immediately. You’ll learn how they fit into “life design”, practice them, take some home to use, have access to videos to support your use, AND your school or organization will receive a box of additional tools.

You’ll each learn to use, peer practice and leave with a set of:

Personality Lingo cards and demo video

Career Value Cards and demo video

Motivated Skill Cards and demo video and more

You’ll have access to your school or organization’s Box of Tools which will include:

Who You Are Matters Facilitator Kit (2 game sets and profiles for 40 game players)

5 Sets of Career Values Card Sorts and worksheets

5 Sets of Motivated Skill Card Sorts and worksheets

5 Sets of Personality Lingo Card Sets

Facilitator: Rich Feller, Ph.D is Emeritus Professor of Counseling and Career Development and one of twelve University Distinguished Teaching Scholars at Colorado State University. Former National Career Development Association President, Rich has consulted on 6 continents, all 50 U.S. states, and three provinces. His clients include NASA, AARP, Semester at Sea, NSF, NFL, UN, Chief Scientist for YouScience which is changing career assessment through aptitude feedback, and co-author of the CDMInternet with over 14M users. He sees OneLifeTools scaling career wellbeing to broader audiences so that career advisors and coaches can do their best work. Learn more at RichFeller.com .