What is Twice Exceptional/2e?

Twice exceptional, or 2e, is the term used for a person who is identified as gifted and also has one or more disabilities such as dyslexia, ADHD, or Autism Spectrum Disorder. Twice exceptional students may display strengths in some areas and weaknesses in others. Because a student's gifts and disabilities may mask one another, it is often difficult for teachers and parents to realize the student is gifted or that he or she has a disability.

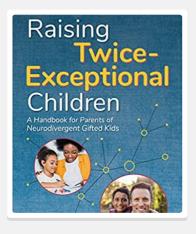

Common characteristics of twice exceptional students include:

- Advanced critical thinking and problem solving skills
- Intensified sensitivity to stimuli including sound, taste, smell, etc.
- · Strong sense of curiosity
- · Perfectionistic tendencies which may lead to low self-esteem
- · Poor social skills
- · Ability to sustain deep concentration in interest areas
- · Difficulty in reading and writing due to cognitive processing deficits
- Behavioral challenges due to underlying frustration, boredom, or lack of motivation

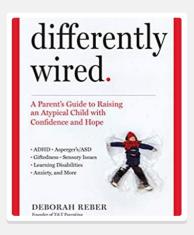

If a child is truly twice exceptional it is important for parents and teachers to work together to address both the child's strengths and challenges.
